

START BUILDING NEW BRIDGE AT EDISON, ROUTE 613

Span to Cost Approximately $161,000 and Completed In 80 Working Days

A FEDERAL AID PROJECT

Labor Furnished Through The National Re-Employment Service

EDISON, May 22—One of the outstanding engineering projects of this section of the State got under way this week when construction work started on the new Edison bridge along the Lackawanna Trail here, south of Doylestown.

The contract calls for the expenditure of approximately $161,000 and the bridge is to be completed in 80 working days, according to the project engineer, N. Stanley Cotter, Jr. The contract was awarded by the State to Hempt Brothers, of Camp Hill, Pa., and the superintendent on the job is Jack Anderson.

The new bridge is being constructed as a Federal Aid job and labor on the job is being furnished through the National Re-employment Service, with offices in Norristown. Mechanics and other expert labor is furnished by the contracting engineer.

When completed the project, which calls for the erection of two bridges, will straighten out the most dangerous curve along the Lackawanna Trail between Easton and Willow Grove. It will eliminate the old stone bridge at Edison which has been a landmark for many years and the scene of many serious accidents. The Neshaminy Creek crossed by the old Edison bridge has been bridged as far back as 1764, records show.

The new bridge will have a 34-foot roadway for three-lane traffic, with two concrete sides and a center of macadam, in addition to a 5-foot sidewalk on one side of the bridge.

The entire relocation will be 0.95 mile.

Work started on the bridge on the north end of the project, where a large steam shovel has already excavated several thousand cubic feet of dirt for fill along the Neshaminy Creek. The north bridge will be 130 feet long and will include 16-foot spans of concrete arch construction which goes underneath a 35-foot fill. This road structure will continue south across the property of S. Anson Walton, passing within 15 feet of the Anson place and continue on to meet the other new bridge which will be 180 feet in length of steel beam concrete floor construction, which will connect with the present road at the south end of the project.

Over 100,000 cubic yards of fill will be necessary in the entire project.

Offices for the inspectors and the general contractor have been established in the village of Edison. About 40 men will be used daily on the project. The State inspectors on the job include George Younger, of Bristol, and James Clark, of Crofton.

The old Edison bridge will not be destroyed. According to present plans it will remain for the convenience of the people who will be inconvenienced by the new road.

BRISTOL GIRLS' TRACK TEAM DOWNS NORRISTOWN

Third Straight Victory Chalked Up for Fair Athletes of Bristol

DISTANCES AND TIME

The Bristol girls outscored Norristown yesterday afternoon to make their third straight victory. The well-coached track team got off to a flying start when Stella Liszewski hurled the leather sphere a distance of 201'-8" to better her own record of last week of 198'-7". Stella takes her track work seriously and practices hard every day. She attempted almost every event there is in girls' competitive sports, but excels in the baseball throw. Janice Jefferies and Anne Warwick placed second and third, respectively.

The girls then turned to shot-put, and Martha Gibson, who is also a runner, tossed the 8-lb shot 30'-5/8" to capture first place. Viesha Richardson, Norristown, gathered in second place, and Janice Jefferies followed with third.

Doris Sutton, a freshman who is going to follow in Mary Ann Duffy's footsteps, toed the cinder path and was handed five points for first place in the 50-yard dash. Her time was 6.5 seconds. Martha Gibson ran right at her heels and took second, with Elaine Dantonio, of the opposing squad, third.

The home team stepped across the field for discus throw and collected six points to add to the already gathered 29 points, leaving Norristown trailing with only seven points. Barbara Lynch showed excellent form and topped the list with a throw of 75'-2". Viesha Richardson, of the defeated, tagged along for second place, and Ruth Jefferies, not far behind, heaved for third place.

The spectators lined up to see Mary Ann Duffy run the 75-yard dash in nine flat. The Norristown "streak-of-lightning," Cornelia Spence, dropped back into second; Thelma Johnson worked up into third position.

From there Thelma trotted to basketball throw, and with little rest heaved the ball further than the others to smile at five points for highest honors. Her distance was 74'-5". Florence Mitch and Grace Weller third second and third, in order.

High jumping was won by Alice Fisher, Norristown, who cleared the bamboo pole at 4'-6". Her friend, Florence Baker, jumped into second, while Mary Yates of Bristol followed third in line.

There was quite a dispute at the broad-jumping pit, but in spite of that, Mary Eckert and Martha Gibson jumped for second and third places, respectively. They were out-distanced by Sara Spohn, who left the board only to break turf at the 8'-3/4" mark. Running broad jump followed immediately and the determined Mary Eckert, in spite of a foul, topped the list with a flying leap of 15'-5 1/2", but was followed very closely by Florence Baker of Miss Blew's squad. "Sprinter" Duffy sank into the pit just a few inches behind Miss Baker for third place.

After a much-needed rest the girls

RESIDENTS URGED TO OBSERVE CLEAN-UP WEEK

Burgess Endorses Movement; Asks Residents to Co-operate in State-Wide Campaign

IS HEALTH SAFEGUARD

Residents of Bristol borough are urged by Burgess Clifford L. Anderson to join with other communities throughout the state in observing the week beginning Monday, May 24th, as "clean-up week." This week has been designated as such by the state departments of health, welfare, forests and waters, and the state police bureau of fire protection.

Burgess Anderson heartily endorses the movement, and believes it affords an excellent opportunity to impress upon the community the necessity and importance of disposing of all rubbish and debris, the cleaning of cess-pools, attics, cellars, and other out-of-the-way places where there is a likelihood of there being an accumulation of material for which the house-holder has no use, and perhaps afford a spot for the breeding of disease-spreading germs.

Despite the fact that Bristol borough employs an authorized collector of ashes and rubbish who makes collections weekly in each of the six districts, it is considered important to stress the fact of "clean-up week" in Bristol as it is being done in other communities.

"Clean-up week" affords an opportunity to go over the entire house with an eye to finding junk and trash that has accumulated during the Winter. Much of this material, including old papers, books, rags, bottles, etc., will be found in the attic or down cellars. Place all of this material where the authorized collector can get it on the days designated for him to visit your particular community. Gutters should be cleaned, ditches opened, and sewers flushed. Vacant lots should be given attention, and cleaned of old papers, bottles, tin cans, which have been thrown there during the Winter months. There is opportunity in Bristol for the cleaning of many vacant lots, and the cutting down of high growth of grass and weeds.

The Board of Health draws attention to the fact that flies thrive in dirt, mosquitoes in stagnant water. Both of these potential breeding places can be eliminated with little effort. Holes in the ground where stagnant water accumulates, should be filled up. Tin cans, discarded pots and pans, in short any receptacle that will hold water should be removed from fields and vacant lots.

Chief Clifford Hagerman of the Bristol Fire Department says:

Fire has been, and will be unless kept under control, a scourge to mankind. Fires, particularly in the field of employment, throw large groups of people out of work and bring about economic reverses. This must be avoided. Fires in the home often destroy lifetime savings, and elsewhere the fire menace disturbs orderly living, causing in Pennsylvania last year a staggering tax of approximately $15,000,000, not to mention the appalling sacrifice in human life and suffering to the extent of 1,000 fatalities and casualties.

Uncontrolled fire leaves no salvage.
What it touches is irreparably lost, and the resources of our country are to that extent diminished. It follows that no greater service can be rendered than an individual contribution of interest and activity in the preventing of fire.

We must, of necessity, repeat what has been stated again and again, that not less than 80 per cent of the fire losses in Pennsylvania occur through the carelessness, indifference and neglect of the people. Careful house-

REPUBLICAN WOMEN HEAR PROBLEMS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED

Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Langhorne, Tells of New Registration Law

TO COST COUNTY $10,000

Dr. Wilfred Harris Crook Addresses Group Upon
Labor Situation

DOYLESTOWN, May 22—Speakers of national prominence, and those well-known in Bucks County, were heard yesterday by the large company of women who attended the Spring meeting of Bucks County Council of Republican Women, in the auditorium of the Doylestown Country Club.

The new permanent registration act, in which the gathering showed intense interest, was ably discussed by Mrs.
Joseph Palmer, Langhorne, who told of the requirement of all voters to register with a definite party hereafter, no one being permitted to register as an "independent."

One thing pointed out by Mrs. Palmer was that all must re-register with any change of address, even though the new address might be in the same apartment building, in the same block, or voting district.

"The commissioners will receive no extra pay for this," she added, "and the cost to the county will run into thousands of dollars." The cost to Bucks County, it was later stated, by one member present, would approximate $10,000. Mrs. Palmer urged the members to see that their neighbors are registered on the days which will be set in June, July and August.
Many queries were put to the speaker regarding method of registration, place, etc., but the questioners were informed that no definite plan has been announced as yet. The important thing, the women were advised, is to be sure to register, as the registration assessor will not as heretofore visit the voters.

Mrs. John W. Cooper, Pineville, president of the council, was in charge of the meeting.

The morning period included transaction of business, with Mrs. Howard Kooker, Jr., Quakertown, serving as secretary; and Mrs. Horace Effrig, Newtown, as treasurer. A resolution of respect for the late Mrs. William C. Ryan, former president of the organization, was read by the chairman of the resolutions committee, Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Langhorne. This had been prepared with the aid of the other two members of the committee, Mrs. Ernest Harvey and Mrs. Clarence J. Buckman, Langhorne.

Mrs. Minerva Martin, chairman of the membership committee, presented her report to the members, also telling of the desire to conduct meetings in each section soon. A new program committee was appointed by Mrs.
Cooper, this being inclusive of: Mrs.
Caroline Giltner, chairman; Mrs.
Howard Kooker, Jr., Mrs. Theodore Yochum, Quakertown; Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Langhorne; Mrs. Walter Baum, Sellersville; Mrs. Wilson Yeakel, Perkasie; Miss Eleanor Worthington, Hartsville.

Miss Worthington, who is also chairman of the legislative committee, brought to the assemblage the important items before the state legislature.

Mrs. William J. Leattor, of this borough, asked a number of questions of interest to all gathered, these being answered by Mrs. Fred Beans, Yardley; Mrs. A. Russell Thomas, and Miss Gertrude Bright, Doylestown, and Mrs.
Theodore Yochum, Quakertown. The questions dealt with who comprise the election boards, how pay for board members is based, outline of districts for certain state and county officers, the amount of indebtedness of the county and state, classification of the county, etc.

The president called attention to the regional Republican conference of Southeastern Pennsylvania, to occur June 8th at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Philadelphia. Another announcement concerned the card party to be conducted by Mrs. Effrig and her committee at the New Century Club building, Newtown on June 4th at two p. m., to raise $50 for the state committee.

J. Harry Hoffman, county superintendent of schools, in discussing the new teacher tenure act, told of the use in the act of the term "professional employee" instead of teacher, this term including all employees such as secretaries, dental hygienists, nurses, teachers, and all regular full-time employees. He mentioned the valid reasons for termination of contracts.
He told of the few reasons by which a school board could dismiss teachers, adding that all hearings must be public. "The superintendent in some instances may bring the charges, but he is not protected unless a superintendents' tenure act is passed." Mr.
Hoffman informed that the board in filing charges must give a detailed written statement, and no salary decreases are permitted. He informed that this bill is not a bill of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.
Listed on the afternoon program were Dr. Wilfred Harris Crook, an instructor in the junior college at

HOLLYWOOD GROWS HER OWN

A weekly picture magazine recently reported the upgrowth in Los Angeles and environs of a younger generation of surpassing physical beauty. It is nearly 33 years, a generation as ordinarily reckoned, since the motion picture industry began luring to the south of California the nation's most beautiful and daughters. Many failed to find places on the screen, but that did not prevent them from finding romance, a helpmeet, a home and children. It is these children who, most naturally, are growing up to enjoy more than their fair share of the national supply of good looks. The magazine proved it with selected photographs.

However, proof was all but unnecessary. The logic of the situation is enough. Special aptitudes cluster about any established industry and as time goes on must be bred into the surrounding population. The fate of Los Angeles, as to standardized beauty, would seem self-evident.

The tendency plausibly should encompass other characteristics of the population besides physical beauty, notably the style of speech. It would seem inevitable that professional habits, acquired from elocution teachers and the like, should be carried also into the home and thus be passed on as a normal heritage to future generations. The outlook in that respect is rather affrighting.

There are many other interesting possibilities. The theatrical profession always has tended to be clanish and self-contained, but never before, not even in Broadway's palmiest days, has it been concentrated geographically as in Hollywood. The time should come when producers will not think of looking beyond the city limits for new talent, which, incidentally, would be a drug on the overstocked market.

DUST BOWL SPREADING

Assertion by a Kansas scientist that dust storms are no new phenomena in the dust bowl country does not lessen national responsibility for doing what can be done to lessen their frequency and their intensity.

It may be true that there have always been dust storms. It may be true that there will always be dust storms. But it probably is not true that there have always been such dust storms as we have known since the mistaken enterprise of man robbed the soil of that binding which Nature in its wisdom provided for preservation.

But it undoubtedly is true that unless man finds some way of correcting his great mistake in extending agriculture into regions where agriculture should not exist, the fertility of vast acres will disappear in newly created deserts.

A Chicago university professor has asserted that the country's dust bowl is spreading. He declares that it is moving eastward at the rate of 40 miles a year, that one of every four houses in the southern segment of the dust bowl country has been abandoned, that of 12,000,000 acres of crop land only about one half is in use and that of 3,000,000 acres sown to small grains in 1936 only about one third was actually harvested.

Consequently it is becoming increasingly clear that there is no short and easy solution to this problem. But that the solution is of national concern is evident. Unless the dust bowl is conquered, it is a certainty that much valuable territory will be added to our desert areas.

Residents Urged To Observe Clean-Up Week

keeping in the homes and in places of business, where most fires occur, and the incentive to be watchful for the common fire hazards, will unquestionably curtail our annual fire waste to a very appreciable extent.

The solution of our fire waste problem lies mainly with the people themselves, and the recognition of this fact is forcibly indicated now, so that during the Spring clean-up period proper attention and action may and will be manifested in correcting and removing the conditions and combinations that invite and cause fire.

The Bristol Board of Health states that "Clean-up week" offers an opportunity to plan for protection against flies through proper screening and above all, providing the best methods for quickly disposing of garbage. The Board urges the use throughout the year of tightly closed garbage containers and warns against throwing garbage on vacant lots or in alleys or other out-of-the-way places.

WIDEST STREET IN WORLD

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina.—(INS)—This city shortly will boast the widest street in the world—the Avenida Nueve de Julio—construction of which was started recently. Cutting straight through the heart of the city of Buenos Aires, from north to south, the new street will be one hundred and forty meters wide, that is to say about 20 meters wider than the Bois de Boulogne, in Paris. Office buildings extending over a distance of 34 city blocks were expropriated at a cost of more than 120 millions pesos to make way for the street.

SOME SORT OF RECORD

ASHTABULA, O.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith claim it's some kind of a record. Within the past few years they have resided in four different places and on three different streets without ever moving out of the same house. The house is a four-suite apartment building fronting on three streets here. The Smiths have occupied all four suites, each time changing their address although never moving away.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Courier:

In reading the Saturday issue of the Courier, in the article about Miss Effie Watson's career as a school teacher, I noticed that the Green Lane School was omitted. Miss Watson taught there before going to the Cold Spring School, and if I remember rightly, her sister, Miss Rena, succeeded her at the Green Lane School.

Miss Effie taught me at the Green Lane School, and she taught my children here in the Bristol schools, and now is teaching some of my grandchildren.

Very truly yours,
BENJ. T. GROFF.

CHIEF 5-22

R. D. WOOD WINS OUT OVER LANDRETH NINE

FLORENCE, May 22—A wonderful hurling match between Turner Ashby and Johnny Bartello was broken up in the eighth inning here last night as the R. D. Wood team scored five runs which was enough to win over the Landreth Seeds, of Bristol, 5-1.

For six frames, Ashby and Bartello pitched magnificent ball. During these frames both were in hot water several times but by sheer pitching skill managed to escape unscathed. But in the first half of the seventh, Jack Broderick, Landreth catcher, stepped to the plate, picked a Bartello pitch to his liking, and sent it over the left field fence for a home run to give the Bristol team a 1-0 edge.

Ashby retired the Jerseyites, one, two, three, in their half of the inning and when Bartello did the same in the first half of the eighth, Ashby had a 1-0 lead with only six outs to go.

But then the works went. Al Carey batted to Bartello and singled. "Shine" Angelina hit to center for two bases, putting a runner on third and second. "Fats" Sweeney flied out to Liberator. Nick Frapolla was purposely passed to load the sacks for a force-play at any base. But Ashby lost his control and issued a walk to Lann, forcing in Carey with a run. Woolston hit a bouncer to Dougherty who tossed low to the plate, scoring Angelina. Singles from the bats of Everingham and Bartello accounted for the other tallies.

Jack Broderick was the leader of the Landreth's attack, getting a double in the fifth and then scoring the localities' only run in the seventh with his four-base ply. Both teams did some good fielding with Sid Purcell coming through with a wonderful catch of Frapolla's fly in the third with the sacks loaded.

EXPECT CAPACITY CROWD AT BOXING SHOW HERE

Advance ticket sales for the opening show of the amateur boxing season are exceeding expectations, according to finance-manager, Charles Aita, who is in charge of the reserved sections of the show which will be held in the outdoor arena of the St. Ann's Athletic Association, Wood and Franklin streets, Monday night. The first bout is scheduled to go on at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

Aita, who also had the seating arrangement job last season, reports that the tickets are selling much faster for the opening show this season than last and he expects a capacity crowd to witness the bouts which are under the supervision of the Middle Atlantic district of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Match-maker Sammy Moffo is still working on his card and expects to complete it over the week-end. He had already booked most of the bouts but cancelled several of them when he felt that those would not be pleasing to the Bristol fans. So there is still several openings for bouts which he intends to fill with first-class caliber.

Two more boxers signified their intention of participating in the opening show. The Croydon windmill, "Hokey" Leighton, is now ready and Moffo is trying hard to fill his desire. Leighton was always a favorite with the local fans and finished on the victory side of the ledger in many bouts last season. His only disastrous set-back was at the hands of Louis Spino who kayoed him in the second round. Previous to that he had won eight straight bouts. Leighton wears the colors of the Croydon Rescue Squad.

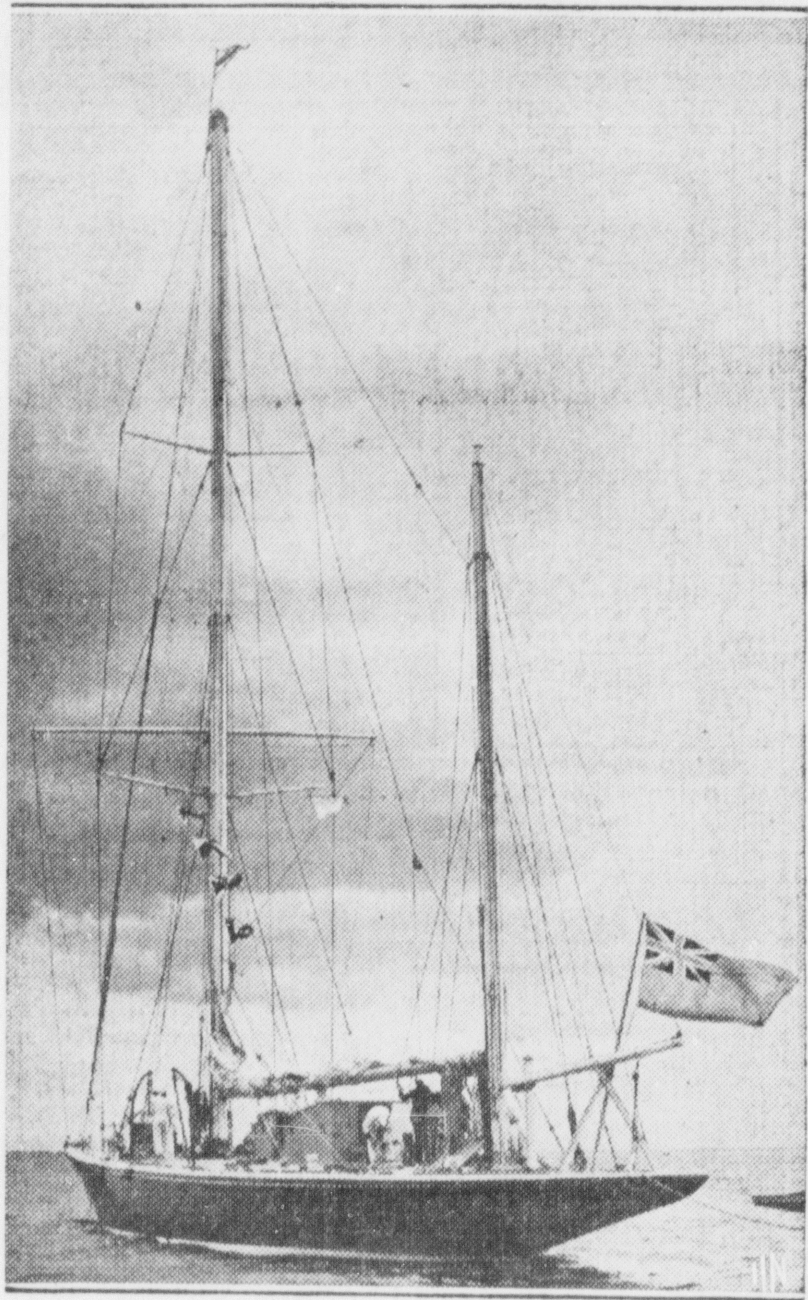

The other youngster who claims that he is ready is Joseph "Kaiser" Cappello. Cappello pleased the crowds with his "Wild Man" tactics towards the close of the last season but with the addition of several more pounds, is able to hit much harder and expects to chalk in many triumphs for the St. Ann's organization.

Other boys who are almost certain to be on the opening card are: Vince Della, 115 pounder; Tally Sciarra, 126 pounds; Tony Puccio, 118 pounds; Sylvester Purnell, 165 pounds; and Joseph Ferrara, 118 pounds. Purnell was crowned New Jersey's 165 pound champion in a tournament held in Trenton. Della was a runner-up in the same tournament.

GRUNDY IX BURIED UNDER AN AVALANCHE OF RUNS

The Grundy wool makers were buried under a 16-3 avalanche last night on the Edgely ball diamond as the Odd Fellows copped the first win of the Bristol Twilight League. The victory enabled the Oddies to jump into third place and put the Grundy team in a deadlock with Rohm and Haas for the cellar position.

"George" Ritter had three singles, two of which came in the first, when 16 batters stepped to the plate and 11 runs were over before the first batter was retired. "Charlie" Ibrag scored three runs. Errors were plentiful, each team committing five. The Grundy team used 16 players in the tilt.

ST. ANN'S TOSSES AWAY GAME TO ZINC SMELTERS

The St. Ann's A. A. team tossed away a ball game last night with the result that the Superior Zinc Corporation nine is today enjoying the top berth of the league, sharing the honors with the Hibernians. Final tabulations of the game on Leedom's field were as follows: Superior, 6; St. Ann's, 3.

For three frames, "Mike" DeRisi issued goose-eggs to the zinc workers and during this stretch his mates had pecked at the offerings of Elijah Bragg, the colored hurler, to score twice in the first and again in the third to amass a 3-0 edge.

But the whole story went to pieces in the fourth when Leon Forman committed a disastrous error and Pieo another. These and a hit by Bud Tulio docked the count for the Superiors and to climax it all, in the next inning, three more runs were scored when Teddie Tosti got the erring habit and made two miscues along with hits by McCue and Stallone.

From then on there was no stopping Bragg. He burned the plate with strikes and only allowed two batters to reach first base. He struck out seven batters in all.

It was the third straight win for Superior.

Republican Women Hear Problems of Day Discussed

Bucknell, and author of "The General Strike," and Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee.

"American Labor, Its Aims and Its Methods" was the subject chosen by Dr. Crook for presentation, and this native of England, who received his A. B. and A. M. degrees from Oxford University, and a Ph. D. degree in economics from Harvard University, had a most attentive audience as he handled his subject in a very able manner. Dr. Crook has taught social science for more than 14 years, and is a student of the labor situation in general.

"We are in the middle of a new kind of experimental practice by labor, one which we don't enjoy, and which most of us don't approve of—the sit-down strike," he stated at the outset of his address. Then he added that the public asks "Is it Reds or is it roots that make this situation? Is it agitators or the history of industrial life of this nation?" Continuing by giving a history of industry in the United States, this student of labor problems informed that the background of labor shows better why certain kinds of labor trouble develop at certain times. Four points were given in outlining labor's history here: 1—Ideal of individualism in the history of American industry; 2—Fortunate possession of immense resources, vast supplies of riches which enabled a man to make a fortune; 3—Proliferate humanity, "which we have been able to use as workers of mind and hand, in more recent years imported from Europe; 4—Industrial revolution, the coming of machine and mass production of goods.

"Until the time of the Civil War the first three counted. Then the type of immigration changed to those from Southeast Europe, where there was a difference in the language and religious basis, and a difference in the set of standards. Against the new empires of industry there grew a new industrial labor movement. Idealism and practicalism changed. The Knights of Labor were too inclusive. Pressure came through strikes and demands of a political nature, and its power slipped. . . . The American Federation of Labor, coming next, recognized that labor was not ready for a definite independent party. This was a very practical form of organization, but was exclusive in many ways, as it did not take in the Southeastern section of European labor coming here." Dr. Crook then mentioned the various types of unions that have grown up in this country.

Continuing, Miss O'Hara had this to say: "The future of the Republican party lies in groups such as this, groups that believe that education does not end with the class room. We must cast our vote sensibly, and spend time to study public problems." In conclusion she told of the need of "insistence that the man, whether he be president or governor, to rule with the aid and assistance of that man you have elected as your representative, whether it be in Harrisburg or Washington."

The Doylestown Junior Club Women's chorus gave selections at the afternoon meeting, these including: "Night Winds" (Goddard), "Morning Comes Early" (Slovakian Folk Song), and "Morning" (Speaks).
